Notes	This is an old, but updated, HMH product. The new Chemistry product, written with NGSS in mind, is not ready for release and was not included in this RFP.	Program not well received by teachers. Felt there was a lack of clear coherence to NGSS and a limited amount of hands on sessions for students. There was also concern about assessment and lack of options.	Very limited information in the RFP. No indication as to how the resource was written or if consideration is given to 3 dimensional teaching. Discovery Ed is completely online with the ability to print virtually all resources. It is highly interactive and engaging with embedded elements to make the content richer by use of multimedia. Teachers had very positive reaction to the display and lay out.
