Additional Services Offered	Implementation meeting included, additional PL is an extra expense	Provided PL services not articulated in RFP. Seems like PL is an additional expense.		Professional Learning included in bid; fluctuating enrollment does not result in an increase in purchase.
Notes	The HMH book offered in the RFP is an older copyright and is not written for the NGSS. It is difficult to envision this book being useful as we continue to transition to 3D learning	Teachers felt this book was too basic and too similar to what we have now.	Pearson stores student data outside of the United States; We've had multiple issues with their online platform and full functionality of services. Teachers felt like this was very similar to their old book and did not push us in the right direction for 3D learning	Discovery Ed is completely online with the ability to print virtually all resources. It is highly interactive and engaging with embedded elements to make the content richer by use of multimedia. Teachers had very positive reaction to the display and lay out.
